NBCC Foundation Awards 2017 Scholarship to Dr. Aimeé Callas Carter

Lexington, SC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. (NBCC), recently awarded one of the 2017 Center for Credentialing & Education (CCE) professional development awards to Dr. Aimeé Callas Carter, of Lexington, South Carolina. The goal of this scholarship program is to advance the professional identity and development of CCE credential holders. Dr. Carter will receive $500 to advance her professional identity and development.

Dr. Carter is the Director of Academic Partnerships for the South Carolina Technical College System (SCTCS) where she leads efforts in developing systemic articulation, transfer, and dual enrollment pathways. Her experience in education began over 12 years ago and includes work with K–12 students and working learners. Dr. Carter’s professional mission is to create opportunities for career and professional development through experience and education. Credentialed as a Global Career Development Facilitator (GCDF) in 2007, Dr. Carter completed master and doctoral studies in higher education leadership after earning a Bachelor of Science in occupational education. She previously held leadership positions in both proprietary and public higher education and taught courses in student leadership and integrative learning, career preparation, and college student success. Currently, she’s an adjunct instructor for the University of South Carolina Darla Moore School of Business and serves on the advisory board for the Madison School of Healthcare at Ashworth College. Dr. Carter is also a participant in the 2017–18 SCTCS Leadership Academy.
