Consuelo I. Mockerman Awarded $5,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Colorado Springs, CO—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Consuelo I. Mockerman of Colorado Springs, Colorado, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Youth (MFP-Y). As an NBCC MFP-Y Fellow, Mockerman will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations, with a specific focus on transition age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-Y is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-Y, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute $5,000 to Mockerman and the 39 other master's-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Mockerman is a graduate of Autonomous University of Chiriqui in Panama and Nazarene Bible College in Colorado Springs and is currently a master's student in the clinical counseling program at Colorado Christian University in Colorado Springs. She intends to work with minority populations including American Indians, Alaskan Natives, Latinos and African Americans upon graduation. Her goal and desire has always been to work with the marginalized populations of the world, not just the United States. Mockerman sees this fellowship as the open door to reaching her goal. She has seen firsthand the devastation of families being torn apart by addictions, oppression and feeling misplaced by their circumstances. Her goal is to bring hope to those families through the counseling process.

The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-Y application period in September 2015. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org.

About the NBCC Foundation
