Robyn Hale Awarded $5,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Pembroke, NC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Robyn Hale of Fayetteville, North Carolina, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Youth (MFP-Y). As an NBCC MFP-Y Fellow, Hale will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations, with a specific focus on transition age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-Y is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-Y, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute $5,000 to Hale and the 39 other master's-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Hale is a graduate of Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and is currently a master's student in the professional school counseling program at the University of North Carolina at Pembroke. Hale hopes to work with children and adolescents after graduation, specifically those from marginalized backgrounds. Her research is focused on first-generation college students. Many students are interested in higher education; however, they are unfamiliar with the application process and the benefits of having a postsecondary degree because they lack cultural capital in the form of a parent with college experience. She is an advocate for multicultural competence and is also passionate about research that aims to understand people and bridge gaps created by social factors.

The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-Y application period in September 2015. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org.
