Shinelle Oglesby Awarded $5,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Baltimore, MD—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Shinelle Oglesby of Baltimore, Maryland, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Youth (MFP-Y). As an NBCC MFP-Y Fellow, Oglesby will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations, with a specific focus on transition age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-Y is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-Y, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute $5,000 to Oglesby and the 39 other master's-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Oglesby is a graduate of Sojourner Douglass College in Baltimore, Maryland, and is currently a master's student in the pastoral counseling program at Loyola University of Maryland in Baltimore. After graduation, Oglesby intends to serve African-American adolescents and adult women who are from disadvantaged economic backgrounds. She also intends to provide counseling for survivors of urban trauma who suffer with post-traumatic stress disorder.

The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-Y application period in September 2015. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org.
