Amanda Leah Reeder Receives Rural Scholarship From the NBCC Foundation

Columbia, KY—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. (NBCC), recently awarded a $5,000 2015 NBCC Foundation rural scholarship to Amanda Leah Reeder, of Vanceburg, Kentucky. The rural scholarship is awarded to counseling students who commit to practicing in rural areas upon graduation.

The mission of the NBCC Foundation is to leverage the power of counseling by strategically focusing resources for positive change. The Foundation created the rural scholarship in 2009 to improve access to counseling services in rural communities, which suffer disproportionately from a lack of mental health care. Nearly 40 students from across the country applied for the five 2015 rural scholarships.

As a rural scholarship recipient, Reeder will receive $5,000 to support her counseling education and recognize her commitment to the underserved. Reeder is both a student and graduate of Lindsey Wilson College in Columbia, Kentucky, where she is currently pursuing a master's in human development and counseling. Upon graduation, she intends to serve youth who have experienced trauma and who reside in rural communities where access to services is limited. Receipt of this scholarship will help with her goal of outreach and educating the community about the effects of abuse and neglect on mental health.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded five $5,000 military scholarships to increase the number of counselors serving fellow military personnel, veterans and their families. The Foundation plans to continue offering scholarships to increase the number of counselors in the areas where they are needed most and will open the next application period in September 2015.
