Madeline Stenersen Awarded $11,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Milwaukee, WI—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Madeline Stenersen, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Stenersen will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-AC, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute $11,000 to Stenersen and the other master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Stenersen is a graduate of the University of Northern Iowa in Cedar Falls and is currently a master's student in the clinical mental health counseling program at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Upon graduation, she intends to continue her work with underserved populations in an urban setting. Specifically, she would like to work with adult and young adult women who are involved in the criminal justice system and women who are victims of human trafficking. She would also like to continue her research regarding this population with the ultimate goals of finding an effective evidence-based practice for these often-forgotten populations and raising awareness of the specific needs of these women.

The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in September 2015. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org.
