NBCC Foundation Awards 2018 Scholarship to Angie Carmella Smith

Raleigh, NC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. (NBCC), recently awarded one of the 2018 NBCC Foundation Approved Clinical Supervisor (ACS) training awards to Angie Carmella Smith, of Raleigh, North Carolina. The goal of this scholarship program is to increase the number of available Approved Clinical Supervisors. Dr. Smith will receive $500 to support her attainment of the ACS credential.

Dr. Smith is currently interested in researching online learning environments and career counseling issues. She serves as a teaching associate professor at North Carolina State University and has been part of the CACREP-accredited counselor education program for the past nine years. Her current role extends beyond teaching, and she also serves as the College Counseling Coordinator for the on-campus and online programs. She has been a Licensed Professional Counselor-Supervisor (LPC-S) for six years and supervises practicum and internship students and licensure-seeking members of the community. The ACS award will provide Dr. Smith the opportunity to enhance her training and extend supervision services to a wider audience.

For more information or to make a donation, visit nbccf.org. The Center for Credentialing & Education (CCE), a platinum sponsor of the Foundation, provides the grant funding for this award. More information about the ACS and other CCE credentials is available at cce-global.org.

About the NBCC Foundation
