

Global Career Development Facilitator (GCDF) – Domestic

Note: Requirements listed below apply to the 2022 application cycle. Date and other eligibility requirements are subject to change for the 2023 application cycle.

The goal of this scholarship program is to increase the number of available professional counselors providing quality career development services. In doing so, the GCDF scholarship program plays an important role in the NBCC Foundation’s mission to leverage the power of counseling by strategically focusing resources for positive change.

Five domestic scholarships of up to $1,000 each are available to cover the costs of CCE-approved GCDF training. You can find a list of CCE-approved GCDF training providers on their website. Training must be chosen within 12 months and an invoice or bill must be submitted to the NBCC Foundation. Funds will be remitted directly to the approved training provider. CCE reserves the right to adjust the award if the tuition is less than the award amount.

Eligibility requirements include the following:

- Must currently be board certified by holding the National Certified Counselor (NCC) credential.
- Must possess a master’s degree.
- Must be seeking initial GCDF certification.
- Must commit to providing career counseling services for two years.

CCE provides the funding for these awards, which the NBCC Foundation administers on CCE’s behalf.
